Okeanos Aquascaping

After completing over 150 aquatic landscaping projects for high-end commercial, retail, and residential spaces, Martin Schapira and Nathan Kamelhar noticed a dearth of modern desktop aquariums. In response, they created an impeccable tank that will complement the high-design items on an executive's desk. Isolate combines Flos' Kelvin LED dimmable light in chrome with a cube of Starphire optically clear glass that's been silicone-bonded to hold water. Both are recessed in the 26-by-15-inch base, which can be specified in American walnut, weathered Brazilian ipe, blackened steel, acrylic, bespoke wood options, and a custom gold-plated finish. The filtration and heating system accommodates both fresh- and saltwater aquariums, or it can be removed and the fixture used as a terrarium—or even to hold your tarantulas. Also available as a freestanding unit. 212-244-9555; okeanosgroup.com. circle 578 ➤

“Large tanks can be quite busy visually; we made a tiny one so you can relax and focus on a single perfectly illuminated fish.”
